Randall Woolf is a New York City-based composer known for his lively music in a variety of genres. He has been commissioned for numerous works for standard forces including orchestra, chamber and soloists as well as digital audio, and also is active in writing and arranging for film, art rock and performance art with such artists as John Cale, Kronos Quartet and twisted tutu. His premiere full-length disc, a collection of chamber works entitled Rock Steady, was released in CRIs Emergency Music series in 1998 and described by The Wire as "brilliant, jazzy, sharply etched and confident."

Originally presented on the stage by American Repertory Ballet and Ballet South of Savannah by special agreement with The Night Kitchen.
